CURE FOR WORMS.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE prepared at the subscriber's Wholesale and Retail Drug Warehouse, corner of Sixth and Wood streets, Pittsburgh, Penn'a.

This preparation is confidently recommended to the public, as an effectual medicine for expelling Worms from the system. It has already been extensively used in this county, and the proprietor has ascertained from particular inquiry, that it has not failed to produce the most salutary effect, in every instance in which it was administered—and in many cases, after every other remedy had failed. It is mild in its operation, and may be administered with perfect safety to the most delicate infant.

The following testimony of its effects is offered to the public:—

"Pittsburgh, April 1st, 1830.

"We the subscribers do certify, that we have used in our families B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, and recommend it to the public, as the most effectual medicine for expelling worms from the system, that has ever come within our knowledge."

I do certify that a child of mine, aged 3 years, had been for some time afflicted with worms, and having tried every remedy without effect, at length used B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, three tea spoonfuls of which caused it to discharge 138 worms. It has since continued free from any symptoms of worms. JOHN BENSON,

Wilkins township, Allegheny county.

May 5, 1830.

I do certify that a child of mine, aged 5 years, by using one bottle of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, discharged several worms, some of which were 12 inches long.

WM. M'CARTNEY, Bayardstown.

May 17, 1830.

I do certify that I have used B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge in my family, after using various other worm medicines without effect. Three of my children, after using the Vermifuge, discharged upwards of 300 worms.

WILLIAMSON'S EXCHANGE,
PITTSBURGH.

THIS new and extensive Hotel, believed to be one of the best in the United States, is now open for the accommodation of the public.— The advertiser, well known as the conductor of a public house in the cities of Baltimore and Washington, takes this method of informing those who have heretofore patronized him, and travelers generally, that his entire efforts shall be directed to the comfort, ease, and quietude of all who may favor him with their custom. He appeals to his old friends for a "passing word" to strangers who may have occasion to visit Pittsburgh, pledging himself that nothing shall be wanting, on his part, to make their sojourn as agreeable as possible. Charges will be much the same as in the other respectable Hotels. The best servants from the Atlantic cities will be immediately engaged. The proprietor respectfully invites a call.

☞ The Gazette, Cincinnati, Advertiser, Louisville, Courier, New Orleans, Intelligencer, Washington, Commercial Advertiser, New York, will insert the above every other day for one month, and forward their accounts to this office within that time. Pittsburgh, Dec. 24.—tf.

Poetry.

From the New England Weekly Review.

THE FROST-SPIRIT.

He comes—he comes,—the Frost-Spirit comes; ye may trace his footsteps now.
On the forest-tops and the quiet vale and the green hills' withered brow;
He has smitten the leaves of the dark old boughs, where their pleasant green came forth,
And the winds that follow wherever he goes, have shaken them down to Earth.

He comes—he comes—the Frost-Spirit comes, from the frozen Labrador,
From the icy bridge of the Northern seas that the white bear wanders o'er—
Where the fisherman's sail is stiff with ice, and the luckless forms below,
In the sunless cold of the atmosphere, into marble statues grow.

He comes—he comes—the Frost-Spirit comes, on the rushing Northern blast,
And the dark Norwegian pines have bowed as his icy breath went past,—
With an unscorched wing he has hurried on where the fires of Hecla glow
On the darkly-beautiful sky above, and the ancient ice below

He comes—he comes—the Frost-Spirit comes, and the dimpled lake shall feel
The torpid touch of his glazing breath, and ring of the skater's heel—
And the streams that danced on the broken rocks, or sang to the leaning grass,
Shall bow again to their winter chain, and in mournful silence pass.

He comes—he comes—the Frost-Spirit comes—let us meet him as we may,
And turn with the blaze of the parlor-fire his evil spirit away;
And gather closer the circle round where that fire-light flashes high.
And laugh at the voice of the baffled fiend as his sounding voice goes by!

THE PARTING YEAR.

I pour no sad farewell to thee,
Thou parting year:
I wreathed thy cradle merrily,
For the promise of joyous days to be,
And wreaths shall deck thy bier.

Why should we sigh for such as thou
While hearts are warm?
Thy sunny days are over now,
I cannot love that withered brow,
With its chilly shade and storm.

I bless'd thee for the summer hours,
That came in glee,
And dancing streams, and rosy bowers,
But thou hast trampled on the flowers,
And now farewell to thee.

Yet I will bid thee peace, thou year,
For what has been,
For though thy flower decked paths are sear,
Yet hearts are clinging round us here,
In all their summer green.

And no unkind farewell, cold one,
As thus we part,
We'll hang a pledge thy brow upon,
To the memory of the loved ones gone,
And the true ones, heart by heart.

HINDA.

From the New York American.

The political aspect of Europe, as presented to us by the accounts received by the De Rham, is certainly very critical; and those accounts just reach to a very critical period, the opening in Holland, France, and England, of the session of the Legislatures, and the meeting,—it was to take place on the 3d of November—of the national Congress of Belgians. Our next intelligence, therefore, will be more interesting even, and probably more decisive than that now before us.

Concerning England, there is so little to be found in the files of the French papers, that we must await some direct arrival, before entering upon any speculations as to her condition and prospects; though we cannot but think that the emphasis with which the King is made to declare his purpose of using all the means in his power for the suppression of disorder in his dominions, indicates strong apprehension that discontent is very prevalent.

A careful perusal of the Paris papers of all parties leaves us strongly under the impression that the Press, and the National Guard, are the actual rulers of France; and the recent change in the ministry, demanded in the first instance by certain Journals, and finally called for by Lafayette, is the evidence of their power; for this change was effected on the very eve of the meeting of the Chamber,—the ordinance naming the new Ministers was passed on the 2d, the Chambers convened on the 3d,— and yet the previous Ministry was in harmony with, and sustained by, the great majority of the Chamber, recruited as it was by more than one hundred deputies then newly chosen, of whom almost all were of the ministerial party. But some of the newly established Journals were dissatisfied with the hesitation, and disgusted with the theories, of Messrs. de Broglie and Guizot, who did not march forward frankly and boldly in the cause of the revolution, and therefore open war was made upon them. The popular movements instigated by the desire of vengeance upon the ex-ministers, seemed to paralyse the ministry, who certainly evinced an unpardonable want of energy under such circumstances; and the National Guard of themselves interfered to restore and preserve order, —thus manifesting at the same time their own power, and devotion to law and order, and the weakness or incompetency of the King's Ministers. Under these circumstances a change became indispensable: whether that which was made is the best that could have been brought about, remains to be seen. To judge from the first impression produced by it on the Paris press, it was popular. It cannot be disguised, however, that the circumstances under which M. Lafitte became the Premier, are of extreme difficulty, and we have the parallel instance of M. Necker to prove, that a very skilful banker may make a very incompetent first minister. It appears to be anticipated by the papers generally, that the new cabinet will be in a minority in the Chamber, and that it may be necessary to have recourse to a dissolution of that body. But a dissolution without a new electoral law would only result in bringing back the same deputies: and to propose to the existing Chamber, before dissolving them, a new electoral law, of which the first and obvious object would be so to modify and extend the right of voting, as to turn out the majority of those then holding seats, would be to ask them to be aiding in their own destruction. Here then would recur the very difficulty which drove the Polignac ministry to resort to the fatal ordonnances of July—a Chamber opposed to the ministry; and which the ministry had no means of changing. If this should be the result, we shall then see how a liberal cabinet will manage to triumph over difficulties that overthrew an ancient throne and its ultra royal advisers.

We have inserted this morning some details concerning the situation of Belgium, which form a dreadful picture of misrule and calamity. Holland was suffering great and commercial distress, though not in the degree in which the hostile provinces were afflicted. So great are the confusion and discord in the internal affairs of Belgium, that nothing but the power of the Allies can effect a settlement. The intervention will be delicate and hazardous on account of the condition and dispositions of the people of France; but it must come, and doubtless has been undertaken. We have an Antwerp paper, of a late date, (patriotic or revolutionary,) in which a constitutional monarchy is recommended as the only refuge of the Belgians, and the political destinies of France are represented as wholly uncertain, or extremely tenebrous.—Nat. Gazette.

From the National Gazette.

We have received our files of Paris papers down to the 4th ult. They contain much interesting and ominous information. The King of England's speech at the opening of parliament, which has been "faithfully Englished" at New York from the French version, will first attract the notice of politicians. The royal tone is very gentle in relation to foreign affairs, but it is evident from the tenor of several of the paragraphs that Great Britain and her allies will not remain passive as to the concerns of the Netherlands. The determination which is expressed of preserving inviolate the treaties upon which is founded the general system of Europe, may have important consequences.—Such admonition is given to the seditious among his Majesty's subjects, as was to be expected from the temper of the Duke of Wellington.

The writers in the French journals condemn and applaud the change in the French ministry, according to their respective party feelings and designs. The Journal des Debats, which was earnestly loyal to the government of Louis Philip, is much dissatisfied with that event, and declares that it was repugnnat to the judgment and inclination of the monarch himself. It is ascribed by that paper to the influence of a Democratic junto or cabal, acting as did the "ultra-royalist and jesuitical" during the ministry of Martignac under Charles X. There is a remarkable article on the subject, in the number of 27th October, from which it is to be inferred that parties exist near the throne, fiercely and diametrically opposite to each other in feeling and theory. A deplorable picture is drawn, at the same time, of the whole executive department during the recess of the Chamber of Deputies. The elections throughout France were generally favorable to the late ministry. The composition of the present cabinet is such that it cannot last long. On the 20th Oct. the popular tumults had been quelled, owing to the firmness of the National Guard and the self-possession of the King. No blood was shed, but the object of the mob,—the execution of the ex-Ministers,—seems more likely to be obtained since the exclusion of the more moderate and philosophical members of the cabinet. We interpret the array of the National Guards in the reviews, as an expedient of intimidation against the turbulent and revolutionary part of the population.

Lamentable ravages and depredations were committed, in October, in Belgium, by disorderly bands of the people of the country. Frequent battles took place between the Flemish volunteers, and the Dutch troops that remained. The pursuit of the latter into Antwerp is proof of the intrepid and exasperated spirit of the defenders of Brussels. The whole draught of the Constitution proposed for Belgium is contained in the Journal des Debats of the 31st October. An hereditary executive, an irresposible king, is one of its features.—Much controversy was anticipated, respecting the form of government; but the great powers have undertaken to decide between the several parties, —the latter being divided into the friends of the Prince of Orange, and the advocates of some native Belgian as king.

According to advices from Trieste, dated 18th ult., discord continued to increase among the Greeks, and would soon be pushed to all extremities, if the Allies did not provide a strong executive system for them.

In the new Parliament it will be proposed to vest the Regency in the Dutchess of Kent, as mother of the Heiress Presumptive; conditionally, however, as on the event of issue being born to the present King and Queen, it will be invested in the Queen.—British Traveler.

The London Sunday Times of October 31, has the following paragraph, which we presume alludes to Stephenson, who resides in this country.

"We hear that the interesting daughter of a fugitive Banker, has just become the wife of a man of wealth, and, indeed, of title. We wish Lady O—, much happiness, and hope she will enjoy the satisfaction of consoling some of those who suffered from her father."

The melancholy fate of Antwerp will excite general commiseration, and the consequences of the devastation committed there will probably be felt by the commercial world far and wide. That the Brabanters should have so easily gained possession of the town with its strong defences, which the allies did not dare to approach in 1814, would be matter of astonishment, were it not evident that the inhabitants had opened its gates. The conduct of the Prince of Orange with the unconnected details we possess appears inexplicable,—we find however the following paragraph in a French paper, which goes somewhat to solve the mystery.

"It is well known that this Prince since the reestablishment of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, has always been opposed to the system of government of his father, that his opposition has drawn down on him many inconveniences and even affronts, and that the cause of the disgrace which has been heaped upon him, is the attachment he has ever shown to the brave Belgian officers of the old army. He has even carried this attachment further than his filial affection, and fled from the King his father to throw himself in the arms of the Belgians; on the other hand Belgium is not entirely open to him: driven from his native land, he has reason to fear that he will be disowned by the land of his adoption."

The change which has taken place in the French Ministry, we are happy to perceive, is in consonance with the opinions of General Lafayette. The members of the King's cabinet, who have resigned, are Messieurs Cassimir Perrier, Mole, Louis, de Broglie, Guizot, and Dupin.—N. Y. Courier.

From the London Courier.

ST. PETERSBURGH, Sept. 10.

"MY LORD,—The accounts of the progress of the cholera morbus are becoming rather alarming.—It is making rapid advances towards Moscow: it is already at Sinebiask, Tyaritzigur, Saretaff, and Pewza. At Astrackhan, the Governor (Nisson) and almost every officer of police have perished, and the other deaths are at the rate of about a hundred daily. If the disease once reaches Moscow, there can be little doubt that it will spread to St. Petersburgh, Warsaw, and from thence into Germany. This will be much less extraordinary than its regular progress from India to the Caucasus, and from thence into the southern provinces of the Russian Empire. It appears to be of a very deadly nature, and to have all the character of the real Indian cholera. I have the honor, etc.

HEYTESBURY."

We understand that accounts have been received subsequently, stating that the disorder had reached Moscow, where it was making frightful ravages. The Russian Government is making all possible efforts to stop its progress.

The London Standard says—"The Duke of Wellington met with a very rough reception from the populace on leaving the House of Lords yesterday. The Premier was on horseback, and was followed by several hundreds of the "middling and working classes," with dreadful hootings and hissings. Several missiles were thrown at his Grace; and at one time, great apprehensions were entertained for his personal safety. Some persons in the mob, however, called out to them not to hurt the Duke's groom, who was close to his distinguished master, "for (as they said) he had done no harm." His Grace eventually got safe into the residence of Lord Bathurst, in Downing street, and the mob dispersed."

Extract of a letter from Malaga, dated Oct. 6.—"General de Bourmont has arrived here from Algiers, with his two sons, on board an Austrian vessel. As I wished to know his opinion on the late events, I sought an opportunity of conversing with him, and was greatly surprised to hear him blame in severe terms the coup d'etat which was attended with such fatal consequences to Charles X.—Whilst he was member of the council, he said he constantly opposed any attempt to violate the Charter, but during his absence, the error of blind zeal had overcome the counsels of prudence. M. de Bourmont intends to proceed to Antwerp, and from thence to England."

The Gazette of the Two Sicilies states that the Dey of Algiers expends 1,000 scudi—about £200 a week, for his lodging and table alone. He goes out but little, but takes great delight in looking out of his windows.

ALGIERS.—The following is an extract of a private letter of the 25th ult. from Toulon:—"The news from Algiers, lately received by the Syrene, is very unfavorable. It appears that the Arabs still prowl round the town like famished wolves. A merchant vessel being unfortunately stranded near Cape Metafou, an host of Bedouins covered the shore, and massacred 45 of the crew under the very eyes of the army. This intelligence fills Algiers with consternation, and troops were immediately sent to Metafou to inflict terrible vengeance for this assassination. The frigates Armide and Iphigenie and the brig Voltigeur have set sail, and other ships will shortly follow them."

LONDON, Oct. 29.—We are informed that England, France, and Prussia, the nearest Powers to Belgium, are going to hold a Congress, at which they will form certain conditions for the pacification of Holland and Belgium. These conditions will be presented to the Provisional Government at Brussels for their compliance within a certain time, limited by the three Powers. At the expiration of that period, should the Belgians not comply, the Prussian troops will immediately march into Belgium. The above is said to have been agreed to yesterday by Prince Talleyrand. We cannot help expressing great doubt of the correctness of the above.

LONDON, Oct 29.—The situation of Ireland continues to be the subject of general conversation.—Many reports are in circulation, and many conjectures are hazarded concerning the results of this situation. The general opinion is that measures will be adopted to repress the sentiments which predominate in that country, and that tranquillity will be restored.—Courier.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—We regret to learn that the Duke of Wellington, on his return from the House of Lords on Tuesday, was assailed by a mob of ignorant and misguided persons with marks of popular indignation, too unequivocal to be misunderstood. All this is in the highest degree disgraceful.—Herald.

It is said that M. Charles Serrurier, chief of the political division at the Foreign Office, is appointed Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States, and that M. Beaurepaire is sent in the same capacity to Cassel.

The Quotidienne calculates that the French revolution from 1789 to 1815, cost a loss in lives of 25,709,139 men, slain in battle, killed in popular tumults, or executed. There have been in the same period, 62,889 fires, conspiracies and insurrections.

The late wars of the Russians with the Persians and the Turks, have raised the Russian character throughout Asia, and consequently Asiatic commerce with Russia increases daily. In August there arrived at Orenburgh from Bokhara, a caravan of 2,897 camels, bearing merchandise to the amount of 2,000,000 of rubles. The Mahometan pilgrims of Asia, going from the interior to Mecca, now pass, for the most part, through Russia in preference, because they find a safer road and more freedom from exactions, than in Turkey or in Persia.

Bombardment of Antwerp.—A letter published in the New York Gazette, dated Antwerp, October 29, states that the losses occasioned by the bombardment there was immense; and that a great proportion will fall on American merchants. The King's Warehouse or Entrepot was the only one in which a conflagration took place.

Joseph Vitelli, a master mason, died at Rome on the 13th October, leaving an immense fortune. By his will, he bequeathed all this property, estimated at 300,000 Roman Crowns, (£60,000) to Monseigneur Nicolai, protector and confessor of his daughter. The latter and his son only inherit a small portion. The prelate is appointed fiduciary heir.

Washington, Dec. 22.—A Document yesterday transmitted from the Treasury Department, in answer to a resolution of the House of Representatives passed at the last Session of Congress, presents facts highly necessary to the formation of a proper estimate of the character and policy of the National Government. It is a "Statement of the Disbursements made since the adoption of the Federal Constitution, under the following heads: Fortifications, Light Houses, Public Debt, Revolutionary and other Pensions, and Internal Improvements; showing, as far as practicable, the amount disbursed in each year, and in each State and Territory." The statement comes up to the close of the year 1829, and exhibits the following aggregate.

There has been disbursed for

Fortifications,	$13,420,639 24
Light Houses,	3,348,716 35
Public Debt,	180,303,670 31
Pensions,	29,492,647 27
Internal Improvement,	5,310,930 11

The latter sum of expenditure, being that to which exception has been taken on the score of its prodigality, embraces "the building of piers, preservation of ports and harbors, making roads, and removing obstructions in rivers." And of the amount here stated, $2,443,520 20 was expended on the Cumberland Road, leaving for all other expenditures, under the comprehensive head of Internal Improvements, $2,867,509 91 only.

ADELPHI SEMINARY.

THIS institution, under the sole direction of Mr. and Mrs. Quinan, commenced its scholastic year the first of September, with such new arrangements as it is hoped will insure general approbation.

The system of instruction adopted is calculated to prepare the pupils for the real business of life, and every study has the tendency of exercising their powers of judgment and reason, while, at the same time, what are usually considered accomplishments, the languages, music, drawing, and polished habits, are not overlooked. The circumstance of Mrs. Quinan's having received her education in Paris, peculiarly fits her for such a task.

It is the great object of the Principals, to instruct their pupils so that they may become useful and virtuous members of society; and in the use of the means of enforcing their precepts, although they remember that "the heart of man is utterly depraved and wicked," yet no coercive measures are adopted, until all others fail. The system is a parental one: this carries with it its own explanation, and admits of no change.

The studies of the Seminary are such as are pursued at the best institutions, and are imparted both by lecture and recitations.

There are two vacations in the year—one of two weeks, commencing the Saturday preceding Christmas; the other, the month of August. Those who choose are, however, privileged to remain at the institution—at no other time will a pupil be permitted to sleep from under its roof. To afford a facility to the friends of the pupils witnessing their progress, &c. Monday in every two weeks will be set apart as days of visitation. It is presumed that this will obviate the necessity of calling upon the pupils at such other times as would break in upon the order of their studies, &c.

Terms, yearly—to be paid half yearly in advance.

NOTICE.—The Annual Temperance Sermon will be preached, in the First Presbyterian Church, by Professor Halsey, on Saturday, the first of January, at half past ten o'clock, A. M.

COMMUNICATED.

On Friday last, Mr. JAMES HENDERSON, of St. Clair township, was killed, at the mill of his brother, Mr. John Henderson, on Sawmill run. He was on the overshot water wheel cutting away the ice, when it suddenly started, and turned round. He fell, and was struck by one of the arms, which crushed his left breast so badly as to deprive him of life in less than two hours. He was 32 years old, a native of Tyrone county, Ireland. He was a very sober, decent, and industrious young man. He had received the best education that is afforded to the sons of respectable farmers in the north, and since he has been in this country, (about 5 years,) his deportment has been so uniformly correct and respectable, as to win the esteem of all his neighbors and acquaintances. He was sensible to the last, aware of his approaching end, but meeting it with the firmness of a brave young man, and the calm resignation of a christian. He was buried on Sunday last, in the Methodist grave yard, attended by a large concourse of people from the town and country.

DIED, near Erie, Pa. of an inflammation in the brain, a Mr. KNIGHT, lately from Providence, Rhode Island. He came passenger in the stage from Buffalo with myself, and appeared to labor under a strong mental excitement all the way, until we arrived at that place, when he became perfectly insane, and continued so until an hour or so before his death, when he became sane, and then he stated his name was Knight, and that he came from the above named place.—By giving the account of his death in your paper, and sending one on to Providence, with a request for the editors of one of the Providence papers to insert it, you will probably oblige his friends, if any he has. Respectfully, I am your ob't Serv't.

A CARD.—The subscribers, passengers in the Steam Boat Watchman, Capt. Kimber, from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, would express our gratification at the attention and accommodation given us on our passage, and also our perfect satisfaction with the manner in which our difficult and hazardous passage through the ice was effected. We would cheerfully recommend Captain Kimber and his boat to the attention of the public, as deserving general patronage.

Steam Boat Watchman, Dec. 26, 1830.

Nothing of general importance has yet been done by our State Legislature. In the House of Representatives a resolution congratulating the French people upon the results of the late Revolution, passed, after considerable debate, on the 15th; and resolutions are before it, to inquire into the expediency of repealing the acts laying a duty on retailers of merchandise, and for considering the propriety of laying a tax on stone coal.——In Senate, resolutions relative to abolishing the punishment of death for murder in the first degree; and for instructing our Representatives in Congress, to endeavor to have a portion of the surplus revenue set apart for education,—have been debated, and the first postponed to the 17th and the second to the 19th of January.—Chambersburgh Repos.

Harrisburgh, Dec. 25.—On Wednesday last the House of Representatives passed a resolution to adjourn from the 24th of December to the 3d of January. On Thursday the resolution was sent to the Senate, and was negatived.

The Senate yesterday reconsidered their vote and adopted the resolution.

CONGRESS.

December 21.—In Senate the President pro tem. communicated a memorial from sundry inhabitants of Butler county, Pa. praying that the transmission on Sunday of the United States' mail, may be prohibited by law. Bills were introduced by Mr. Johnston, on leave, for the relief of the sureties of William Gibbs, deceased; and to authorise the inhabitants of Louisiana to enter back lands. The bills for the relief of John Bronson, Thomas Fitzgerald, and for carrying into effect certain Indian treaties, were severally considered as in Committee of the Whole, and ordered to be engrossed and read a third time. The Senate having organised itself into a High Court of Impeachment, the trial of Judge Peck was proceeded with. Mr. M'Duffie concluded his argument on the part of the House of Representatives; after which, and the production of some documentary evidence, the Court adjourned till this day.

The House of Representatives met at 11 o'clock, and after the reception of petitions and the presentation of a number of resolutions, among which was one offered by Mr. Wickliffe, directing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into the expediency of abolishing imprisonment for debt by virtue of process from Courts of the United States, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, Mr. Cambreleng in the chair, and proceeded at the assigned hour to the Chamber of the Senate, for the purpose of proceeding with the impeachment of Judge Peck. Mr. M'Duffie resumed and concluded his remarks; and after various documentary evidence had been submitted, the Court adjourned and the members returned to their Hall. Mr. Cambreleng reported progress; and the House adjourned till 11 o'clock this day.

December 22.—In the Senate the resolutions submitted on Tuesday by Messrs. Hendricks, Holmes, and Baker, were considered and agreed to. On motion of Mr. Hendricks, and by unanimous consent of the Senate, the bills for the relief of John Bronson, Thomas Fitzgerald; for carrying into effect certain Indian treaties, were severally read a third time and passed, and sent to the House of Representatives for concurrence. After 12 o'clock, the High Court of Impeachment for the trial of Judge Peck, met according to adjournment, and upon the arrival of the managers from the House of Representatives, the case was proceeded with. Mr. Lawless gave in his testimony: and at a quarter past 3 o'clock, before the examination of that gentleman had been concluded, the Court rose, and the Senate adjourned.

In the House of Representatives, after the usual presentation of petitions and resolutions, Mr. Hoffman from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported a bill to authorise the construction of three schooners for the naval service of the United States. It was read twice, and referred to a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union. Mr. M'Duffie, from the Select Committee to whom had been referred that part of the President's message which related to the question of the re-eligibility of the President for office, presented a report upon the subject. It was read a first and second time, and ordered to be printed. Mr. Dwight offered a resolution that the House meet at eleven o'clock, and attend the Senate at twelve, during the trial of the impeachment of Judge Peck. Mr. White, of New York, called for the yeas and nays on the question, which were ordered—a sufficient number rising to sustain the call. Mr. Pettis, Mr. Dwight, Mr. Clay, and Mr. Doddridge, addressed the House on the subject, the latter gentleman moving as an amendment to the resolution, the resolution submitted by Mr. Hoffman on the preceding day, to the effect that the House should attend day by day during the trial. Mr. Hoffman supported the necessity of the attendance of the House; and after some remarks from Mr. Strong, the amendment of Mr. Doddridge was negatived. Mr. Drayton moved a further amendment, that the managers only should be required to attend. This was also negatived; and the question was taken on the passage of the resolution by yeas and nays, and lost by a vote of 87 to 84. The remainder of the session was devoted to the orders of the day; and about 3 o'clock the House adjourned.

NEW EDITION

Buck's Theological Dictionary.

KAY'S REVISED AND ENLARGED EDITION.—Lately published, and for sale by JOHN I. KAY & CO., Booksellers, 95 Market street, an enlarged and much improved edition of Buck's Theological Dictionary, in one large volume 8vo., new type and fine paper.

☞The above edition of Buck's Theological Dictionary issued from the press about 4 months since, and was printed from the last London edition, expressly imported for the purpose. In order to adapt it to the use of the American public, the services of a learned Minister of the Presbyterian Church were engaged, whose duty it was to insert accounts of all sects that might have sprung up in this country, as also to give any other religious information that might be required. We subjoin the following notice of the work, from the Biblical Repository, a highly respectable periodical of the Presbyterian Church, printed at Princeton.

"We name this edition a second time, that we may find an opportunity to recommend it as a great improvement upon all preceding editions of the work. The numerous editions and extensive sale of Buck's Dictionary sufficiently prove how well it is adapted to supply the want of the Christian public. Whatever the defects of the original may have been, it was the only compilation of the kind, and could be replaced by no similar book in the English language. The additions made by the American Editor are numerous and satisfactory, and the neatness and cheapness of the work place it within the reach of every family."

Be careful to ask for Kay's Improved Edition, as no other edition of this work has been published for some years. December 31.—w4t.

PROPERTY FOR SALE OR RENT.—The subscriber offers for rent, the three story brick dwellling house which he now occupies, on the East side of Wood, near the corner of Front street. This house is very spacious, conveniently arranged for a large family, and finished in the best modern style. From its proximity to the steam boat landings, and being surrounded by extensive business houses, it would prove a very eligible situation for a boarding or public house.—Possession will be given on the first of April next, or at an earlier period if desired.—I will sell this property low, and on accomodating terms. The lot is 33 feet front by 60 deep: the building embraces a handsome store room, besides the dwelling house. Persons desirous to rent or purchase, can view the premises, and learn the terms on application to the subscriber.

Second Course of French Language,

ENTIRELY DEVOTED TO THE PRACTICE,

At the Exchange, corner of Penn and St. Clair sts.

SOME of the best scenes of the French theatre will be repeated, by way of dialogues, between pupils—a truly efficacious, literary, and agreeable entertainment. Mr. Mouls, moreover, will display all his zeal and experience to promote improvements, and to facilitate the pronunciation of the French in these familiar conversations, which will commence on the 10th January, and will be continued three times a week in the evening. Private lessons and attendance, independently, are given. He refers, for the efficacy of his method, to the pupils who have attended his first course with assiduity.

PITTSBURGH

FEMALE SEMINARY.

MRS NEWCOMB will open an Institution on the first Monday in January next, the design of which will be to furnish the Young Ladies of Pittsburgh an opportunity of acquiring a thorough and finished education. In this School three objects will claim especial attention, viz:—The elevation and expansion of the mind: the improvement of the manners; and the culture of the heart. Those sciences usually denominated the solid branches, will comprise the first; those accomplishments which add a pleasing attraction to all other acquirements, the second; and the cultivation of moral and religious principles of action, and a desire to employ every talent and every acquisition for extending usefulness, the third. A competent assistant will be secured, and no efforts spared for rendering the Institution worthy of general patronage.

TERMS.

Reading, Orthography, Penmanship, Geography, Grammar, History, Arithmetic, Composition, and Plain Needlework,	$4 00
The above with Rhetoric, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Logic, Botany, and Ancient and Sacred Geography,	$6 00
The same with Map Drawing, Painting, and Ornamental Needlework,	$8 00

Music will be introduced the ensuing season, on the usual terms.

A course of Botanical Lectures may be expected during the summer term.

Public Examinations will be held semi-annually.

Board can be procured, in respectable families, for those who do not reside in the city, at from $1 to $1 50 per week.

Applications received at the School Room, No. 184 Liberty street, or at No. 10, Dalzell's Row.

AN ORDINANCE.

Providing for the opening of Cherry alley.

WHEREAS it appears to the Select and Common Councils of the city of Pittsburgh, that Cherry alley, in said city, was originally intended for and laid out as an alley of twenty feet in width, extending from Water street to Liberty street; and whereas certain individuals owning property on Cherry alley, and in streets intersected thereby, have extended their buildings, fences, and other erections, so as to encroach upon, and appropriate to their own use, several portions of said alley: Therefore,

SECT. 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the citizens of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, That the Solicitor of the city be and he is hereby authorised and required to take such legal measures as he may deem most proper, to open and widen Cherry alley, according to the original regulation thereof, so as to give to said alley its full width, as contemplated and fixed by Col. Woods' plan of Pittsburgh.

SECT. 2. That the Solicitor be and he is hereby authorised to engage additional counsel, should he deem it necessary to assist in the prosecution of such means as he may adopt, in pursuance of the first section of this ordinance.

SECT. 3. That the sum of two hundred dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated to meet the expenses that may be incurred in pursuance o the provisions of this ordinance.

Ordained and enacted into a law, in Council, the 27th day of December, A. D. 1830.

ALEX. JOHNSTON, Jr.
Pres't Common Council.
Attest—E. J. ROBERTS, Cl'k Common Council.
JAMES ROSS,

LONDON BOTANIC
OR
VEGETABLE OIL SOAP;

AND ALSO THE

IMPERIAL RENOVATER,

Or the General Restoratives of Ladies' Dresses and Gentlemen's Clothing, of every description, color or quality,

WITHOUT THE LEAST INJURY TO EITHER!

THE above compositions, so justly celebrated in Europe, and also in the principal cities and towns in the United States; the former, the Vegetable Oil, for its superior quality in extracting oil, or grease of any kind, also paint, tar, &c. from Gentleman's Clothing, and woollen cloth and carpeting of every description; restoring the same to their former condition, without doing the least injury to their quality or color. And is eminently useful to sea faring men and travelers, possessing the singular quality of washing in spring or sea water, as well as any other soap can do in rain water; and will be found a sovereign remedy for scorbutic and other eruptions of the face and skin.

And the latter the Imperial Preventative, for its extraordinary qualities in extricating spots or stains caused by grease, oil, or soil of any kind, from Silks, Sattins, Merinos, Canton Crapes, Bombazines, and Ladies' Dresses of every description; restoring the same to their former condition, without doing the least injury to either Gloss, Color, or Quality let the same be whatever it may, and in most cases, in a very few minutes too, without the aid of any kind of liquid, heated irons, or any thing else; and may be left upon silks of the most delicate colors, for whole months together, with the greatest safety; and is now most respectfully offered at wholesale or retail for a few days only, at N. Griffith's Hotel.

It is requested that any Lady or Gentleman, who entertains any doubt of the superior excellence of the above named composition, will bring any of their garments stained as above described for trial, and the same will be removed in their presence; and the most satisfactory proofs given that the practice of sending fine dresses, on account of such stains, to the dyer's, may be in such cases dispensed with. It may be had at all times by wholesale at the subscriber's.

⁂A very liberal allowance will be made to one person, in each town, who may purchase to sell again.

☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn. It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly,

D. C. LANSING.

To Baltimore and Philadelphia
TRAVELLERS.

THE LINE OF STAGES between Chambersburgh and Baltimore, on the Somerset and Mountpleasant route, has been doubled, and now runs DAILY, (Mondays excepted,) leaving Chambersburgh at day-light in the morning, and arriving in Baltimore, early the same evening.

Passengers reach Philadelphia, in this way, the second afternoon, from Chambersburgh, without the loss of any rest; taking the splendid STEAM BOAT LINES, which set out at 6 o'clock in the morning, [via CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL, a work well worth the trip to see.]

REESIDE, Owner.

In all cases where the passengers desire to reach Baltimore in time for the 5 o'clock steam-boat to Philadelphia, they can do so by leaving Chambersburgh at one o'clock in the morning, or immediately after the arrival of the Western Mail Stage. In this way, they arrive in Philadelphia, by eight o'clock the second morning, from Chambersburgh.

☞ When a load offers, the stage will run on Mondays. April 23, 1830.—tf.

LITERARY NOTICE.

TO MY PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC.

HAVING been appointed Deputy Surveyor, in and for the District composed of the county of Allegheny, I deem it necessary to announce, that my SEMINARY for young Ladies and Gentlemen, will be continued as usual, at my residence, No. 84 Fourth street, a few doors from Doctor Dawson's Chemical Warehouse, that the school will be principally conducted and superintended by me, and also that, when called on business, it will be conducted by my Assistant, who must be an able and judicious Instructer. In the Institution will be taught the following branches, which constitute a liberal and scientific education, viz: Penmanship, English Grammar, Geography, with its application to Astronomy, Mapping, &c. and Mercantile transactions in general, together with the Mathematics.

In relation to the course of instruction, particular attention will be paid to the most essential department of education, not only in teaching the most concise and approved methods of Arithmetical Calculation, and of arranging and keeping accounts in trade and commerce, but also in explaining these methods, that the pupil may know how to proceed by reason as well as by rule; for without this, no permanent benefits can be derived.

Having recently purchased a handsome pair of Globes, students will derive a peculiar advantage, in acquiring a sound knowledge of Geography, Practical Astronomy, and the use of the Globes. Students at the study of Surveying, will also have an excellent opportunity afforded them, in acquiring a radical knowlege of the Theory and Practice of that invaluable ART.

For terms, which will be moderate, apply at the school-room. JNO. M'NEVIN.
